- Start with the flash cards numbered 1-12 making a working deck of 12 cards.
- Mix up the working deck periodically.
- Practice by reading aloud the whole problem and then saying the answer from memory without hesitation.
- Every time a hesitation (or error) is made, the helper should do the following correction procedure:
 1. Helper immediately states the correct problem and answer.
 2. Have the student repeat the problem and answer 3 times.
 3. Put the card back 3 cards from the front, so it comes up again before the student forgets it.

- Practice sessions should last 2 or 3 minutes and end before the student gets restless or distracted.
- Give at least a 15 minute break before doing another short practice session.
- Each day that the student does not hesitate on any fact in the working deck on the first “cold” run-through:
 1. Add the three lowest numbered cards that haven’t been memorized, and
 2. Remove the cards with the lowest numbers from the working deck.
- Put the cards removed from the working deck into a review stack of already memorized facts.
- Practice the review stack every fourth or fifth session.
